

FORMER AUSSIE PITCHER MAKES IT BIG IN THE US

Introducing Josh Robins, a former Baseball NSW Pitcher who has had a very successful 2 years in Los Angeles.

Josh pitched at the Nationals in the U16s team and twice in the U18s. He also toured in the US with the Australian schoolboys. He also was a part of the Australian U19 team in 2017.

Currently he is in his 2nd year of his Baseball Scholarship at the prestigious DCAA Division 1 University at Loyola Marymount (LMU) in Los Angeles.

His team has advanced to the US College Baseball World Series Regional Playoffs for the first time since 2000.

Over the summer, Josh will pitch for a team made up of many university baseball players to further develop his skills as a pitcher before completing another 2 years of NCAA Baseball.

He is one of the many Australians playing baseball in the United States at an elite level.

Baseball NSW wishes you all the best Josh.

If this is something you aspire to do you can find more information about playing baseball in the US while getting an education click here

